

TERMS OF CONFIDENTIALITY

Because clients need a place where they can be open and honest without risk, I, _____, agree to keep all information confidential. Only under the following conditions am I bound to disclose:

- A. When information provided to me by a client leads me to believe that possible harm might come to either the client or someone else.
- B. When the court system subpoenas a client's file. Should this occur, I will accompany the file to clarify its content.
